ELIMINATION OF ARTICLE 10 IN LEAGUE IS DEMAND

Announcement Follows Decision Against Proposal

MILITARY BODY REPRIMANDED

Says Nations Tearing Themselves to Pieces By Arming

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—Charles J. Doherty, delegate from Canada to the assembly of the League of Nations today announced he would demand from the floor of the assembly the elimination of article 10 from the covenant of the League of Nations. He made a similar demand at the meeting of the assembly last year, although not in open session.

Mr. Doherty's announcement follows the decision of the commission on amendments not to recommend a change—interpellation resolution, declaring the article was not intended as a guarantee of the perpetuation of political territorial divisions now existing, but simply to prevent changes by armed aggression, and that the article does not require powers to furnish armed force to that end.

The South African delegate secured the action and consultation of the military commission of the league, which he said, had been studying dismemberment for a single continent, formulating a single constructive suggestion regarding dismemberment.

"Nations are going on building armaments which to rear one another to pieces, and in so doing they are tearing themselves to pieces," he should.

This assertion was greeted by a loud outburst of applause.

Annoyance was made yesterday in Geneva by Carlos Arizmendi, the Bolivian delegate to the league of nations assembly, in view of the fact that Bolivia, had complained to the United States before filing its request for adjudication of the Tropic of Capricorn by the league and that Washington had replied that it did not regard the Bolivian proposal as prejudicing the Monroe Doctrine.

Agreement Is Doubtful

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Any understanding between the United States and Bolivia that the former did not regard intervention by the League of Nations in the Tacna-Arica controversy as interfering with application of the Monroe doctrine, may have been reached before the life-time of the present administration, it is said today officially. It is understood that a cursory investigation of state department records did not indicate that the United States had ever consented to reference of the controversy to the league.

DISCOVER NEW PROCESS FOR TREATING FIGS

Perfected After Five Years Spent In Experimenting

New Product Described
As Blend Of Fresh
And Dried Fruit

A new process of treating figs discovered by J. C. Fornker, a pioneer in fig culture, which it is believed will revolutionize the fig business and add a new industry to Fresno has been perfected according to an announcement made here yesterday. The product which resembles very closely a pulled fig will be placed on the market of the country this fall.

The process which was perfected after five years of experimenting makes possible the blending of fresh figs and dried figs in a product that is said to be as near the familiar pulled fig of commerce that merchants who have been handling this latter commodity for years are almost universally unable to detect any appreciable difference in appearance.

The public announcement of the discovery was not made until samples had been sent to various parts of the country and to firms from dealers. In almost every case the result was that the sample received was a pulled fig.

Blend of Fresh and Dried

According to J. C. Fornker, discoverer of the process, the product is a blend of fresh and dried figs. The fresh figs are picked when perfectly ripe and serve as a base for the new product in the form of fresh fig jam. Experiments conducted show that the moisture is retained in the product for many months overcoming the handicap of drying out which was characteristic of dried figs. Chance of infection and the possibility of molds is reduced to a minimum, it is claimed.

The first variety of the new product which will be put on the market will resemble a pulled fig in shape and pack and it is believed will eventually supplant it. According to local fig packers, the process promises to revolutionize the industry as it lends itself to a great variety of fig specialty products and it is said that the keeping qualities are superior to anything now on the market in the natural fruit state.

Prominent men identified with fig culture in California express the opinion that the perfection of this new product in the entire field of figs in the entire industry.

For centuries the dried variety of the figs of commerce has been the dried variety and until the recent expansion of the fig industry in California, no attempt had been made on a large scale to utilize fresh figs the bulk of the product having been dried. This is still the case in the Near East where the bulk of the crop is dried on account of the lack of initiative of foreign growers and the lack of facilities to handle the fresh figs.

For hundreds of years the manufacturers of jams and other specialty products have used the dried fruit. The introduction of the fresh fig into the blend is said to give it a flavor superior to that of the dried fig and it is believed that the product will find instant favor among the big manufacturers.

Natural Monopoly Here

That Fresno will have a natural monopoly in this new product is the belief of Fornker. He has already taken steps to apply for a patent on the process and in addition to this

Judge's Restraining Order Halted Case;
Fine Said Illegal

Special to The Republican
MOBERG, Sept. 8.—A restraining order was issued today by Superior Judge C. Neumann stopping Recorder Carl H. Paulson of Newman from proceeding any further in the case of Antonio Coasi, arrested September 2, on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor.

Coasi alleged that he was arrested and ordered to appear before the recorder and judgement was entered against him and his being confined to any of his eight under the laws of California and without giving him an opportunity to enter a plea or be represented by counsel. Coasi was fined $300 or a jail sentence of 150 days.

He appeared before Recorder Paulson 6 and desisted to enter a plea of not guilty but Paulson said the case was disposed of and would not make any changes. According to a wire Paulson must appear before Superior Judge J. C. Reddick on September 30.

TRADE PLANS TO BE GIVEN

Day Represents Three Countries

PARIS, Sept. 8.—Henry Mason Day, president of the American Foreign Trade Corporation, reported to have been received from the Armenian and Armenian is on his way to Washington to lay before the American department of commerce and the shipping board trade proposals. He arrived today from Tiflis.

Mr. Day, besides a written authorization to represent the country, has given his agreement to be admitted to the department of commerce for its consideration. He is "enamored with the equivalent in gold of $60,000 to be used to facilitate exports to Georgia, Armenia and Armenia.

Armenian, Georgia and Armenia, in Constantinople, offices in Constantinople, it was there Mr. Day met the foreign minister of the associated republics, Philip Rabinovitch, formerly of Chicago.

Mr. Day was invited to address the council of commissioners of the union, corresponding to a senate. He accepted.

He was amazed to find that more than half the members of the union had sold—"I gathered the impression that the organization of Georgia, Armenia and Armenia was about to be imitated by the Soviet government in southwestern Russia, whose trade policies are not controlled but are free and liberal. It is not unlikely the formation of a new organization will spread to the north and west of Russia. The Moscow government are good, but as far as I know, the government in Moscow does not interfere directly in the affairs of the union."

safeguard the fact that Fresno has the largest fig acreage in the country, bringing fresh figs in close proximity to the manufacturing plants will tend to give this section a decided advantage. It is believed that next season a large number of hands will be employed during the entire growing season preparing the base for the product and if it attains the popularity that is predicted for it, the plants will be kept busy on this product alone during the winter.

The Forner jam factory at Cleardon has been pressed into service in making the base for the new product and the manufacture of the fig will start as soon as a sufficient tonnage of the 1921 crop of dried figs is available.

FRESNO SHOT WHILE HUNTING

Companion's Prompt Aid Saves Life

Shot through the fleshly part of his left arm while hunting down four miles from Clovis yesterday morning, Tracy Pholey, son of J. C. Pholey, 3767 Illinois street, is at the Burnett sanitarium where Dr. E. L. Bennett is endeavoring to save the arm from amputation.

The accident happened shortly after 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning when Tracy Pholey and his companion, Arthur Martin, placed their guns in an automobile preparatory to leaving for another hunting ground. One of the guns accidentally discharged, shooting Pholey.

Bandaging the arm in a sweater and holding it to prevent further loss of blood, Martin stood on the running board of the machine while Pholey one-handed drove the car to Clovis, Martin's first aid work is said by Dr. Bennett probably to have saved Pholey's life.

Dr. McMurry temporarily dressed the arm at the McMurry sanitarium. Pholey was then removed to Burnett sanitarium and placed under the care of Dr. Bennett.

Pholey is the floor manager of the United Auto Electric Company of 1227 Broadway. His father is one of the partners of the establishment, and Martin is an employee.

Girl Is Eleventh American To Win Paris U. Degree

Miss Mabel Theresa Bonney in Her Cap and Gown.

The fourth woman and eleventh American to be awarded the degree of doctor of letters by the University of Paris is Miss Mabel Theresa Bonney, California girl. Her thesis was a critical analysis of the drama of Alexander Dumas, "Fils." Miss Bonney also sets an age record for the doctorate, being only 29 years old.

In 1919 she took her B. A. degree at the University of California in her native state. The following year she won her M. A. at Harvard. Then, as holder of the Belknap scholarship, she did research work under Professor Charles E. B. Belknap, then director of the French theater, Du Vieux, in New York.

During the war Miss Bonney put her French to good use when she was chosen to represent the French high commission among college students. The appointment was made by President Wilson. She was appointed delegate to France from the association of American colleges and the national committee of women's colleges.

The degree of "Docteur des Lettres de Université de Paris" won by Miss Bonney was established in 1897.

Moving Picture Star Sought For Fair

Frank Purkett, a member of the program committee of the Fresno District Fair Association, leaves today for Los Angeles to obtain one or more stars to appear in person at the local fair. Several of the most famous stars of the southern movie colony are among those upon whom he is to call in an attempt to induce them to appear here.

Last year, Tom Mix appeared in Fresno, and on Raisin Day William Russell was here to participate. It is the intention of the program committee, however, to obtain some star who has not appeared in Fresno at a public celebration.

While in Los Angeles, Purkett will visit several studios, asking for specific talents. The committee plans to put on a regular vaudeville show every afternoon and evening.

FRESNO FAIR SIGNS FEATURES

Strong Man and Air Thriller to Appear

The signed contract of Sandoz the great son of the original Jim Sandoz, was received here yesterday. Sandoz will appear in Fresno at the fair each afternoon and evening and will perform five or all sensational features during each act that will thrill the crowd.

Sandoz mounts a 30-foot scaffold balancing a woman sitting on a chair on his chin. A special scaffold, exactly 30 feet high, is to be erected in the oval inside the board speedway to allow him to perform this sensational act.

His second feature is in allowing a large, three-horse-power touring car carrying fifteen people to drop six inches onto his body and then permitting the car to pass over his prostate form. This is one of the most thrilling feats known, and can be performed without injury only through his well developed muscles.

Sandoz then proceeds to carry 12 men, sitting straddled on a long pole which is suspended from a high wire, the carries the men for quite a distance.

Another feat necessitating the use of his full strength is the swinging of a 900-pound weight above his head with one hand.

He ends his performance by breaking an iron chain which two hours pulling against each other, cannot break. The feat apparently is made without effort, as he grasps the chain with his hands and with a mighty jerk breaks the links. A diamond medal from the auto in the union presented to him by admiring audiences, is attached to each link of the chain.

Air Expert Signed

The signed contract of Miss Gertrude Grey of Buffalo, N. Y., known through the east as "Queen of the Air," was received yesterday. Mrs. Gertrude, aasterian, Miss Grey will leap from a balloon, in a parachute, each afternoon and evening, from an altitude of over 2,000 feet, landing in the vicinity of the fair grounds. The ascent in the balloon will be made from the oval inside the speedway. Miss Grey is to receive $125 for each ascent made.

The Jester, a long series of flummoxes, pranks and dangers, composed of six men and a woman, has accepted an offer made by the program committee and will, throughout the entire day, entertain the public. Their program will be given on each stage inside of the speedway oval and at the entrance to each of the exhibit buildings and tents throughout the day.

One of the features of the fair entertainment will be the clown army that is to perform stunts everywhere and at all times of the day and night. Fifteen clowns, a number of whom have been with large circuses, are under contract to appear in the fair during the entire week. During the afternoons, they will thrill the people on the speedways.

BLIND MAN IS MOTORING FAN PREJUDICE OF YEARS GONE

By ROBERT MIDDLETON.

Blind George Nagley, out at the Old People's Home, has at last become an automobile fan.

He has succumbed to the lure of a purring motor after overcoming a prejudice of years standing against the use of an automobile.

He has, however, been plagued once called upon, because of a fear based on his inability, due to his affliction, to visualize what they were.

For a long time he placed automobiles and airplanes in the same dangerous category, because every paper read to him by friends told of either a motor or aerial accident in which lives were lost.

But now, despite the handicap of advanced age and inability to see the wonderful sights spread out under God's canopy of heaven, he is making up for lost time. And The Republic, a smile ear, made possible by the old folks by the unbroken generosity of Fremont, is the chair and his company.

Chilean Expert To Address Club Today

APRAISE CLEARY ESTATE

The estate of Frank M. Cleary is valued at $1,191 according to an inventory and appraisal of the estate made this morning in the superior court by J. F. Arnesworth, an inheritance tax appraiser.

BARBOUR MAY HAVE OPPONENT

L. L. Dennett of Modesto
Is Mentioned

The northern part of the seventh congressional district may have a congressional candidate in the field when the 1922 battle of the polls takes place at the primaries next August.

A rumor floating down from Modesto yesterday intimates that a prominent citizen of that city, which for so long held the congressional seat, would be an aspirant for the Republican nomination against the Incumbent, H. E. Barbour of Fresno.

According to this report, L. L. Dennett, one of the veteran members of the upper house of the California legislature and an authority on irrigation law, may be the man.

His backers indicate that he hopes to win by capturing the former-preacher vote, a majority of whom know him by the active work he has done in irrigation and water conservation affairs.

Sen. Barbour has been in politics many years and the experience he has thus gained may make him delay his announcement until the psychological moment in the campaign, or, if matters do not shape up just right, to stay away from the race altogether.

Senator Dennett is well known here through his many professional, political and social connections. At present he is acting as attorney for the San Joaquin Valley Water Users' Protective Association, with headquarters here. In its fight against the water power filings in the Sierras by the city of Los Angeles.

Modesto held the congressional election for nearly a score of years through the length and breadth of L. L. Needham, who was finally beaten a few years ago by Denver S. Church of this city, a Democrat. Barbour succeeded Church. Previous to the incumbency of Needham the honor usually went to San Diego men, the district in the early days running as far south as the Mexican border.

Senator Dennett is to date in fact a candidate for the seat of state, being supported by prominent northern Republicans, a Modestan who was in Fresno yesterday was quoted as saying.

The senator will not become an active candidate until he is assured his chances of victory are good, the visitor concluded.

KERN COUNTY HI BEGINS GRIDIRON TRYOUT TUESDAY

Prospects Bright For Crack Eleven

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 8.—Vernon (All) football practice will start at the Kern County high school next Monday afternoon, Principal A. J. Lander announced today. Fully seventy-five candidates for the eleven are expected to turn out.

As yet no games have been definitely arranged, but the situation may be similar to that existing with several schools in Southern California and has tentatively scheduled three games.

Brighter than ever are the prospects for a "winner" team. With twenty-five boys, Coach Duglin Meedy Griffith returned Sunday from a two weeks' tour of the encampment, having packed all the gear and equipment and, having the appearance of being fit to last down a bleak wall. They were not through strenuous practices in the hills, working out twice daily.

At the school was given permission at the spring meeting of central section of the California Intercollegiate Association to arrange for a football schedule, so as to be played with valley schools until the semi-finals for the championship of central California, which are expected to start about November 15.

An effort is being made to have the opening game here on September 24. Other games tentatively set are as follows: October 1, the University of Southern California, Los Angeles; October 8, Los Angeles High School, Los Angeles.

All the above games will be played in this city. If negotiations are favorably completed, a full schedule will be announced as soon as possible, Duglin said.

Coach Griffith will be assisted by "Bull" Finch, the famous fullback of the Whittier State College. Finch will coach the line. John Strout, former University of California star, and Herman A. Spindt will also be on the coaching staff, which promises to be an efficient one under the leadership of "Goldy" Griffith.

HOO-HOOS OPEN BIG GATHERING WITH BANQUET

"Parson" Peter Simpkin
Of Salt Lake Gives
Principal Talk
Several Members Are Given Initiation
By Cloister

Lumbermen from almost every state in the union, gathered in Fresno for the thirteenth annual convention of the order of Hoo-Hoo, closed their three days' meeting with a monster banquet last night at the Hotel Fresno with nearly 300 persons in attendance. The Cats, who began pouring into the city Wednesday, had arrived in such numbers up to last night that the convention registration desk at headquarters was unable to keep pace with the new arrivals.

The banquet last night marked the opening of the jollification that always forms a big part of the Hoo-Hoo concatenation. During the course of the dinner, which was held in the court of the hotel, in order to accommodate the big crowd, the Cats sang jingles, whooped and deported themselves in fine spirits characteristic of concatenations.

The principal address of the dinner was delivered by "Parson" Peter A. Simpkin, of Salt Lake City. Other informative talks were made by Hoo-Hoo officers and the entire atmosphere was that of informality.

The convention sessions opened yesterday afternoon with an initiation of members by Oskar Cloister, with Elsie Priest of Oskar R. A. Hiscox presiding. At this cloister meeting the following candidates were initiated:

Louis A. Goddard, Robert A. Forster, Fred E. Conner, David Woodard, C. D. LeMaster, G. F. Hopp, A. J. Lucas, Wilson D. Hull, M. C. Woods, J. N. DeMaster, H. A. Roring, F. W. Myer, W. N. Van W. F. Biederman, H. G. Lurie, W. H. Nally, F. B. Golding, W. H. Woods.
